

Samarkand State University is a major contributor to sustainable development within the republic of Uzbekistan as well as across the world through local, regional and global coordination. Therefore, Samarkand State University is committed to sustainable goals and enhancing partnerships with different stakeholders of society.

Further, the Republic of Uzbekistan is actively involved in the implementation of the Sustainable Development Goals. UN agencies have assisted the government in implementing country development programs since 1993. Since 1992, the total amount of financial assistance to the UN system has amounted to about 471 million US dollars. This financial support was expressed in the transfer of best practices of other countries for the development of Uzbekistan.

The Sustainable Development Goals are of particular importance for the republic, because for the first time in the history of the United Nations, in the process of a comprehensive global consultation process, a unified vision of development until 2030 was developed. This agenda was approved by 193 UN member states and, thus, represents a universal vision of the world until 2030.

University and its stakeholders are working with different government departments and non-government organizations for the development of SDGs policy including problems, challenges and strategies. In order to accomplish the aforementioned objectives. Samarkand State University organized.

Samarkand State University's Rector is the senator of Samarkand city which indicate direct involvement in the government affairs and functions attributed to SDGs.

<https://saylov.uz/uz/category/senatorlar?page=8&per-page=10>