

2.3.3

Does your university as a body provide sustainable food choices for all on campus, including vegetarian and vegan food?

We are also committed to serve a variety of food to different types of food eaters like vegetarian and vegan food eaters. Our canteen serves fresh, nutritious and delicious food.

Canteen produce variety of foods where season foods are also prepared and served to food eaters with a sense of nutrition and wellness.

In line with the strategic commitment and vision of the university to increase plant-based diets in all university canteen in order to contribute to climate change mitigation and sustainable development. Canteen runners collect vegan and vegetarian options such as cabbage, cauliflower, soya beans, dry fruits, soya milk, sunflower oil, milk yogurt, different fruits and other vegetables for serving at canteens.
