

2.5.4

Does your university as a body prioritize the purchase of products from local, sustainable sources?

Samarkand State University purchases products of local farmers to supply demand of campus population by running canteens at campuses. University also encourages purchase from sustainable sources.

Samarkand city has many local markets. People buy local, fresh and nutritious food from these places. Siyob Bazar is an international attraction market which is located in Samarkand. This bazaar supply fresh food, fruits, dry fruits and other edible items, collected from local farmers and agro-producers.